

The Kent State Informal Analysis Seminar

Sponsored by Kent State University and the NSF

March 14th - 15th, 2015

Featuring speakers

Alexandre Eremenko (Purdue)

Grigoris Paouris (Texas A&M)

Each speaker will give a four hour lecture series that is accessible to graduate students specializing in analysis.

A poster session will be held for researchers to display their work. Graduate students are particularly encouraged to submit a poster. Posters can be submitted electronically in PDF format.

Visit the conference website for poster submission guidelines, additional information, and online registration. Please email us with any questions.

www.math.kent.edu/informal

Contact e-mail: informal@math.kent.edu.

NSF support is available to cover the local expenses, and possibly travel expenses, of a limited number of participants. Graduate students, postdoctoral researchers, and members of underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply for support.

